Implementing institution: Department of Computer Science and Technology

signed on September 1, 2015

The two universities have signed a Memorandum of Understanding (“MoU”) in September 2015, laying down the terms and conditions of scientific cooperation with regard to the establishment and operation of a Sino-German Institute of Social Computing (the “Institutes”) on each side for the purposes of a close collaboration between both Institutes, including staff exchange and joint PhD student supervision.

In deviation of clause 5 of the above referenced MoU, the partners hereby agree, with retroactive effect as of September 1, 2018, to extend this scientific cooperation for another period of five years by signing this amendment in accordance with the conditions stated in the former MoU.

All other provisions of the above referenced MoU remain unchanged and fully valid.
